The Week

MR. LIFE MANAGER
Adapted from Dave's weekly schedule

Week ending Sunday: _____

Use the nightly routine in areas already reset. A room or pile still needing its first reset is separate work; name the next area and its finish below. Keep the areas you have finished usable while you tackle the rest.

EVERY NIGHT, BEFORE BED

1 Empty the sink
Wash or load the dishes. Leave the sink empty.

2 Wipe the counters
And the table you eat at. Leave them usable.

3 Put things away
Return loose items to their known homes.

Time your full close-out once and allow that time each night. A dish backlog or belongings without homes need reset work, not a faster lap. Check a night only when its close-out is finished.

☐ Mon ☐ Tue ☐ Wed ☐ Thu ☐ Fri ☐ Sat ☐ Sun

Cross out spaces you do not have. Keep every applicable job, move days to fit your week, and write the start times. These are maintenance jobs after the relevant area has been reset.

DONE / DAY	THE JOB AND ITS FINISH	START DAY / TIME
☐ Mon	Floors and dusting Clean the floors and dusty surfaces in the areas you maintain, including your entry and any stairs.	_____
☐ Tue	Laundry, start to finish Schedule the loads you need. Wash, dry, fold or hang, and put them in their homes. Allow for transfers and drying.	_____
☐ Wed	Bedroom and main bathroom Clean the floors and surfaces, toilet, sink, mirror and tub or shower. Check whether the windows need cleaning.	_____
☐ Thu	Kitchen Clean appliance surfaces and cabinet fronts. Check fridge food using its storage guidance; clean spills and shelves as needed.	_____
☐ Sat	Other spaces you have Clean a second bathroom, return items and sweep the garage, and clear and clean the car as needed. Cross out only those you do not have.	_____

One unfinished reset: give it a finish and a time

Area or basket: _____ Start: _____

Finished means: _____ Finish by: _____

A temporary basket is not a storage home. Put its contents in known homes, choose homes for what remains, and complete any trash or donation handoff. If help or supplies are missing, write that next action and its time first.

IF YOU ONLY DO ONE THING TONIGHT
Empty the sink before bed.

Finish the applicable weekly jobs by Sunday evening. Swap days without losing the finish. Leave an unfinished job unchecked and give its remaining work a specific next time.

Our adaptation of Dave's weekly schedule: reset an area, give things homes, then maintain it. Use suitable cleaning methods and follow product and appliance directions.
